

Recently unemployed?

MNsure can help you avoid a gap in health insurance.

If you are losing your employer-sponsored health insurance due to a job loss, you may be able to stay covered. With the help of MNsure, you may be eligible to enroll in health insurance – and possibly get financial help to lower your costs.

About MNsure

- Save time by comparing plans side-by-side
- Find quality health coverage that includes benefits such as preventive care and mental health services
- Also includes important protections like covering pre-existing conditions
- See if you qualify for discounts (tax credits) – or free or low-cost insurance through Medical Assistance or MinnesotaCare

Here to help, at no cost to you

MNsure-certified brokers and navigators understand the steps to take after a job loss, and can help you apply and enroll for the right health insurance plan for you and your family. Go to MNsure.org/help to find a qualified professional near you.

Get started now at MNsure.org

1 Get documents from your former employer that show your coverage has ended. Search for “lose coverage” on MNsure.org to learn more.

2 Confirm whether you have a MNsure account or existing application.

If you do, or if you’re not sure: Call MNsure at 651-539-2009 (855-366-7873 outside the Twin Cities).

If not: Create an account at MNsure.org.

3 Apply. Once you’ve applied, you’ll see enrollment instructions.

Special enrollment period

If you have experienced a big life change (like a birth, marriage, divorce or losing your coverage due to job loss), you can get a special enrollment period, which means:

- You have 60 days to enroll after your coverage ends.
- You can apply before your job-based insurance ends to avoid a gap in coverage.
